Jungle Doctor Tom Dooley Is Killed by Cancer at 34

NEW YORK (AP) — Thomas Dooley, lion-hearted young doctor who battled disease in the Laos jungle even when he himself became ravaged by crippling cancer, died in his sleep Wednesday night at Memorial Hospital.

Death came just one day after his 34th birthday.

Dooley, brought to the hospital Dec. 27 wearing a brace from shoulder to hips, insisted he was going to continue his work if his "iron maiden" enabled him to get around — and characteristically added:

"I am not going to quit. I will continue to guide and lead my hospitals until my back, my brain, my blood and my bones collapse."

Dooley's dedication to relieving the plight of the underprivileged and ailing began seven years ago while he was a Navy doctor.

He spent a year of premedical training at the University of Notre Dame before serving (1944-46) as a Navy medical corpsman attached to the Marines.

Upon leaving service, he studied at the Sorbonne in Paris for a year. A native of St. Louis, in 1953 he was graduated from the St. Louis University School of Medicine.

Dooley rejoined the Navy as a lieutenant (j.g.) and took his internship first at the Naval Hospital, Camp Pendleton, Calif., and then aboard the attack transport USS Montague.

In 1954, at the end of the war in Indochina, his ship aided in evacuation of refugees from Communist North Viet Nam.

Seeing—and feeling—the plight of the hundreds of disease-wracked inhabitants of the area made up Dooley's mind.

He had no money. But he had a fighting heart, boundless energy and a burning zeal.

After leaving the Navy in 1956, Dooley wrote a best-selling book, "Deliver Us From Evil." He used the book's proceeds, and supplies donated by pharmaceutical firms, to return to Laos with three former Navy buddies and set up a small hospital at Nam Tha. He brought in his medical supplies by train, plane, oxcart and dugout canoe.

Air of Excitement Is Felt As U.S. Awaits New President

WASHINGTON (AP) — The atmosphere in Washington today is like that breathless moment in a theater when the curtain begins to rise on a great new drama.

People do not know exactly what to expect, but they expect something, something new and

Castro Grabs 6 Americans

Young Men Accused Of Aiding Rebels

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro's government announced today it is holding six Americans accused of sailing to Cuba Jan. 7 to join counter-revolutionary forces here.

The announcement said all six were seized in Havana the day after they made a pact in Florida with a Castro foe, former Sen. Orlando Masferrer, to join other dissidents trying to overthrow Castro's regime.

Several Americans were executed by Castro firing squads last year after they were captured with "invasion" groups in Cuba.

The announcement identified the six as George R. Beck, 24, Norton, Mass.; Tommy L. Baker, 28, Dothan, Ala.; Donald Joe Green, 28, Clover, S.C.; James E. Beane, 34, Cedar Falls, N.C.; Alfred Eugene Gibson, Durham, N.C.; and Leonard Louis Schmidt, 21, Chicago.

The account said the six sailed from Marathon Key, Fla., with a refueling stop at Key West Jan. 6 after undergoing training at Masferrer's anti-Castro training camp in Florida.

Castro's Cabinet needled the United States with a series of new decrees.

In a session lasting until after midnight, the cabinet:

1. Ordered all Cubans and foreigners employed on the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo and living outside the base to get special work permits from the Cuban government.

2. Ordered all other persons entering the base—meaning Cubans trading with it—to get special permits.

3. Ordered drastic changes in the Spanish American War Monument in Havana.

4. Ordered dissolution of the Cuban-American Cultural Institute, charging it has been converted into a propaganda outlet for the State Department.

Nearly 4,000 Cuban nationals work at the base.

The new law indicated that one aim of the regime was to get its hands on all dollars paid by the base to Cubans. It said that applications for permits to work on the base must be accompanied by a declaration of income.

The eagle atop the Spanish-American War Monument was ordered replaced by a dove of peace, the decree saying that the eagle was a "tragic symbol of aggression, vassalage and exploitation."

U.S. Capital Squared Away For Inaugural

Kennedy To Assume Presidency at About 12:30 P.M. Friday

WASHINGTON (AP) — The capital squared away today for John F. Kennedy's presidential inauguration—one of the biggest in history.

Every plane, train and bus fetched in politicians, celebrities, school children, brass bands and ordinary precinct-run democrats eager to whom it up over regaining control of the White House.

All were here for a solemn occasion that lasts but a moment.

Around 12:30 p.m. Friday, Kennedy takes the simple oath, and as he does the awesome responsibility for leading this country in the challenging days ahead quietly shifts to him.

Rarely has there been such an all-star cast.

Kennedy is here. Harry Truman is here. Dwight Eisenhower is here. Herbert Hoover was expected late today.

Nevertheless, a sense of excitement, of some kind of moving already tingles in the capital.

It is quite unlike the atmosphere in January, 1953, on the eve of Dwight D. Eisenhower's inauguration of democracy at work.

For a short time Friday four men who have taken this high oath will be together at the Capitol—two Democrats, two Republicans—who by their very presence are an excellent illustration of democracy at work.

Only one chilly note threatens to mar the festivities.

The weather man is sticking by his prediction that the thermometer will hover around freezing and that there will be a brisk wind. Those who are at the Capitol, and those who line Pennsylvania Avenue for the parade that follows, are in for a frigid afternoon.

But today the emphasis is nearly all on celebrating.

Kennedy will drop by a reception for governors late this afternoon, take in a couple of private receptions, go to a special inauguration concert of the National Symphony and wind up the evening at a Democratic gala in the National Guard Armory.

Led by Frank Sinatra, an all-star cast has been lined up to entertain those who contribute $100 apiece for the big party fund-raising affair. Performers to appear tonight are Harry Belafonte, Gene Kelly, Jimmy Durante, Nat King Cole, Leonard Bernstein, Ethel Merman, Louis Prima, Keely Smith, Mahalia Jackson and on and on, with a special mention for Ella Fitzgerald. She's coming all the way from Australia.

The "transfer of power" period seems to have gone off unusually well.

In 1952, the transition between Eisenhower and Harry S. Truman was not a happy one.

Traditionally, an incoming president enjoys a honeymoon with Congress, a period when the legislators are disposed to be generous with him as possible. Soon or later, of course, it ends.

Eight years ago at this time, the Washington wisecrack was, "When does the honeymoon begin?"

Kennedy's nominations for his Cabinet and other top offices have had smooth sailing so far.

But in 1953, one of Eisenhower's key nominations—Charles E. Wilson to be secretary of defense—was heading for a collision with the Senate Armed Forces Committee before an agreement was reached. It pivoted on the question of Wilson's stock holdings in General Motors and whether the law practice would top 5,000.

Secret Service agents will stand on every rooftop, peer down every manhole, and scan every human cluster along the inaugural route between the Capitol and the White House.

Other agents will be hidden beneath the special platforms on which the incoming president will stand—at the capitol where John F. Kennedy will take the oath and at the White House where he will watch the inaugural parade.

Preparations for inaugural security began under Secret Service coordination soon after last November's election. While fewer than 200 Secret Service agents will be involved, they will get time to keep up with it.

Thousands jammed the street outside and the corridors of the Statler-Hilton Hotel in a teeming crush to get to a big Texas wing—men and a team of plainclothesmen from Washington and other cities.

The Secret Service is also counting on spectators to help protect Kennedy.

"If anyone in the crowd should make a threatening move," said Chief Inspector Michael Torina, "you can be sure someone nearby would have the courage and alertness to act."

Security Rules Are Tightened In Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Security precautions as rigid as any ever imposed in this security-conscious capital will be directed at thwarting any potential assassin in Friday's inaugural crowds.

About one million persons are expected. The total security force will top 5,000.

Secret Service agents will stand on every rooftop, peer down every manhole, and scan every human cluster along the inaugural route between the Capitol and the White House.

The man was identified as Frank Cypriola, 32, of Akron. Police said he also used the name of Mike Bolchik and he is wanted for questioning in last month's $125,000 bank robbery at Boardman.

The FBI also wants to question him in connection with the burglary of an Akron doctor's office last Aug. 21.

Authorities gave this account:

The 42-year-old Mrs. McCauley, mother of four, died at the Army's Letterman Hospital this week after being flown here from Japan. A hospital spokesman said further pathological studies are underway. Her husband, T.Sgt. Allen McCauley of Oberlin, Ohio, is seeking $250,000 damages from the government over the compulsory vaccination.

The Secret Service is also counting on spectators to help protect Kennedy.

"If anyone in the crowd should make a threatening move," said Chief Inspector Michael Torina, "you can be sure someone nearby would have the courage and alertness to act."

Johnson Is Given Texas-Style Fete

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson had the biggest reception of his political career Wednesday night—and he shook hands in double-time to keep up with it.

Thousands jammed the street outside and the corridors of the Statler-Hilton Hotel in a teeming crush to get to a big Texas wing—men and a team of plainclothesmen from Washington and other cities.

The Secret Service is also counting on spectators to help protect Kennedy.

$7 Million Dorm Plan Is OK'd for Kent State

KENT, Ohio (AP) — The Kent State University board of trustees have approved construction of a $7 million residence project designed to ease the student housing shortage.

Half the cost is to be financed by a loan from the Housing and Home Finance Construction Agency and the rest by bond issue. Construction of the two four-story residents halls, which would house 1,500 men and women, is to start in December. The board also awarded contracts for a $1.8 million arts and sciences building.

The Western Hemisphere supplies 80 per cent of the world's coffee; Africa provides 17 per cent, and the rest comes from Asia and Oceania.

Cubans Just Dead Beats Now

Private investors throughout the world are discovering, not surprisingly, that Fidel Castro has learned well his lessons in Marxist economics. In addition to outright theft of business and personal property in Cuba, he reached another milestone in his career of brigandage by ignoring two interest payments due on bonds held by individuals and the U.S. government.

Defaulting on its obligations in December for interest on almost $38 million in loans to six Cuban enterprises by the Export-Import Bank, and again in January when 4½ per cent interest notes became due on more than $2 million in bonds held by many individuals, the island has disengaged its international financial obligations for the first time since 1935.

History reveals one of the first actions of the Russian Bolsheviks in 1918 was to publicly disclaim any intention of honoring its international financial contracts. This refusal stands today, even though Moscow agreed as one of the stipulations of recognition by the United States to honor its debts to the U.S. government and its citizens. More than a quarter century has since passed, and not one penny of these obligations has been paid.

Nor will they be paid as long as the communist bloc continues in its unalterable course toward the fulfillment of the Marx-Lenin nightmare. It is an accepted doctrine, under the philosophy of dictatorial expediency, to take by force or proclamation that which is not adequately defended.

This rule applies to any object of desire, whether it be gold, people or governments. The Soviet machine has employed it to obvious advantage in its 20-year campaign of territorial confiscation. But the Cuban carbon copy is neither self-sufficient nor capable of amassing the required strength to succeed.

"Hey, boy, isn't there something wrong with this plane? It doesn't have any propellers on it."

"Sure, they're away from home a lot of the time—but what's wrong with that? And they get paid more than a U.S. senator."

"Yeah, he's the boss aloft all right, but he doesn't have as much authority as a ship's captain. He can't marry people."

"When they get these planes fully automatic, what'll you boys drive—trucks?"

"That was a nice ride, young man. Now, if you'll just help me get my bags into a taxi, I'll give you a quarter for yourself."

Nation's Big Banks Keep on Getting Bigger

Customer Demands, Competition Cause Growth in Finances

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The big keep getting bigger in the banking field. They have to grow as the economy grows and particularly as their biggest customers, the giant corporations, grow with increasing needs for funds.

But also banks in financial centers have had to grow to keep up with the Joneses in their own banking business. The postwar years have seen sharp changes in customer demands, in competition with other lending and saving institutions, in the size of loans, in trust activity.

Much of the banking growth has been through internal efforts but much of it in the last seven years has been due to a wave of mergers aimed at making large banks bigger and in spreading their activities into fields new to some of them.

The latest proposal is a merger of two big New York banks, the Manufacturers Trust and the Hanover Bank. If the plan goes through, the resulting giant would be the third largest in New York City and the fourth biggest in the nation.

California's Bank of America with $12 billion in resources is the nation's largest. In 1946 its assets were $5.4 billion.

Manufacturers Trust, now New York's fifth largest, has $4.4 billion, against $2.2 billion in 1946. The Hanover Bank, the city's eighth largest, has $2.1 billion, against $1.5 billion in 1946.

They report combined assets, if they merge, would be more than $6 billion.

They have specific reasons for merging. Hanover has a large and profitable trust department and a number of big corporate customers that Manufacturers would welcome. Manufacturers with 119 branches against Hanover's nine is strong in the fast growing business of serving small depositors and borrowers.

Hanover is one of the few New York banks still in the business of primarily serving big customers. In the last few years there has been a change in this business. The biggest corporations, although their money needs have grown with the nation's postwar boom, have turned in recent years away from keeping any idle funds on deposit in banks. Instead they put them into government securities where the yield has been better.

Banks catering primarily to corporations have suffered—but at the same time banks expanding dealings with individual savers and borrowers have flourished. This makes a natural climate for mergers.

Truman Happily Back in Capital

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harry S. Truman, formerly of 1609 Pennsylvania Ave., NW, breezed happily into town today to see a new Democratic tenant installed at his old address.

The former president, looking fit at 73, arrived by train.

"Whenever the Democrats are around, you're in good company," said Truman as he shook hands with well-wishers who greeted him at the station.

Truman told newsmen that he is giving them a break.

His early morning walking news conferences have been moved from 6:30 to 7:30, "so that you lazy bones can get up."

Truman said he will certainly pay his respects to President-elect John F. Kennedy, but does not plan to meet outgoing President Eisenhower.

True Figures Are Given on State Payroll

Expensive cuts of beef and bargain cuts of pork are featured at many of the nation's supermarkets and neighborhood groceries this week.

The slightly more numerous offerings of beef are mainly such cuts as rib roast, top or bottom round roast and a variety of steaks—rib, club, T-bone, sirloin and porterhouse. A few Midwest and Far West stores favor ground beef, while there are scattered specials on chuck roast and short ribs.

Pork items, run more to loins and the smaller picnic hams than to the more expensive hams and chops.

Grain-fed beef, which yields the better cuts, is fairly plentiful just now while pork is still on the scarce side.

Leg of lamb is the top item in parts of the East and Midwest, but poultry specials are few and far between, with fryers up 2 to 10 cents a pound over a wide area.

Fruit and vegetable bins show a good assortment of winter bargains.

Best buys among vegetables are Danish, or white cabbage, endive, escarole, green onions from Arizona, mushrooms, peppers, parsips where they're available from nearby stocks, Eastern potatoes, radishes, romaine lettuce and Hubbard and butternut squash.

Medium size yellow onions remain an outstanding buy.

Fruit experts recommend golden delicious apples as an outstanding buy.

Other best bets are Macintosh and Cortland apples, cranberries, grapefruit, tangerines and limes.

JANE WILL HAVE TO WAIT A FEW MORE YEARS—Jane Dewar, 9, tells Sgt. 1/C Donald Lembcke in Larkspur, Calif., that her bag is packed and she is ready to enter the Army—that is, the WAC. Jane filled out a card saying she would like to join the Army and sent it to the Recruiting Office. She neglected to give her age. Sister Pat, 8, listens as the sergeant and Jane's mother, Mrs. Robert Dewar, explain Jane will have to wait a few more years.

Polio-Crippled Woman Honored

NEW YORK (AP) — Polly Spangler, 31, a polio-crippled housewife from California—who runs her household from an unusual motorized wheelchair—today was named 1961 national March of Dimes Mother of the Year.

Mrs. Spangler of Tustin, Calif., was stricken in 1954 with both bulbar and spinal paralytic polio. She made a comeback from an iron lung and total disability.

The National Foundation, which presented Mrs. Spangler with a scroll, said she capably manages her own home, cares for her husband, Jerrold, and their two children, Caryn, 10, and Mike, 9.

Spangler built a battery-operated wheel chair for his wife.

Mrs. Spangler also was named honorary chairman of the 1961 Mothers March for Funds, which begins at the end of January.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Watch Your Step!

DEAR ABBY: I've gone with Homer for 7 years. I am 28 and he is 36. Neither of us has ever been married, but he was engaged twice. (People say his mother broke them up.)

Homer is an only child and lives with his widowed mother. He's asked me to marry him and promised me his mother's diamond. But she's still wearing it. When we go to dinner we either take his mother with us or hurry home to have coffee with her. When Homer is at my apartment, she calls him and tells him not to stay too late. Last Sunday we were late for church because she made him change suits twice! Do you think he'd make a good husband? He is financially solvent.

LONG ENGAGEMENT

DEAR LONG: He may be financially solvent, but he sounds emotionally bankrupt. I see only one advantage in marrying this man: you will always be able to find him—attached to his mother's umbilical cord.

DEAR ABBY: All my married life (eleven years) I have had to get up first in the morning, light the heaters, and see that everybody else got up, including my husband.

Don't you think that a man who wants to be "the head of the house" in all other matters should be the first one out of bed when the alarm goes off? Also, who should lock up for the night?

AVERAGE WIFE

After their marriage in July, 1931, her husband insisted that she go back to school and get her degree. She got her degree in journalism. They would eat together in the cafeteria and study in the library, but "I don't think we got too much studying done," she says.

She also studied at the University of Chicago's school of social service administration and came within a quarter of getting her master's degree.

Volunteer art teaching at Chicago's Hull House started her interest in social welfare work. She also was a case worker with steel-worker families in South Chicago.

She quit soon, however, when her first child was born. She resumed her art when her children were well grown. They are Barbara, now 24, who plans to get her master's degree in June from the same school of social service which her mother attended; and Robert, 19, a sophomore at Amherst college, studying law.

Mrs. Goldberg says: "I feel a real humility for people who can manage a career and a family—I never was well enough organized."

"Everyone in my family is beautifully organized except me."

She adds that her husband will work on something, get it done and have a clean desk.

"Yet he is able to do a million different things."

Mrs. Goldberg says her own desk always is a mess. "But I know where to look under that mess and find things," she adds in good humor.

When you see it, you'll agree

— this new Armstrong vinyl floor, Tessera Corlon, is unique. And different. It actually has depth. You can look down into it. The softly colored vinyl chips set in translucent vinyl form fascinating random patterns. Tessera's natural textured effect adds elegance to any interior, yet never dominates. It's available in monochromatic stylings or with accent chips of contrasting colors. And Tessera can be used in every part of your home (even in a basement hideaway).

If you can't stop in to inspect this wonderfully new vinyl flooring — write or call today for samples and information.

Iived in this stucco house (13 years) I have had a skin rash. The only time it clears up is when I go to the hospital to have a baby, or if I leave town on a trip.

When I was away on a trip I stayed in a stucco motel and the rash came back, so I figured it was the stucco. Can you help me on this?

BROKEN OUT
DEAR BROKEN: A dermatologist (skin doctor) can tell you whether you have an allergy, and if so, to what. Give him as many clues as possible, but let HIM diagnose the case.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "AFRAID OF CRITICISM AT THE OFFICE": If you want never to be criticized, say nothing, do nothing, and you'll be nothing.

Appropriations Bill Shunned By Republicans

DiSalle's Measure May Die for Want Of a Sponsor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Seems no one on the Republican side of the GOP-dominated Ohio legislature wants to claim the baby.

The baby is Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's appropriations bill to run the state for the next two years. It calls for expenditure of about $74 million more than the tax revenue in sight during the period.

Rep. Ralph E. Fisher, R-Wayne, chairman of the House Finance Committee, has no burning desire to affix his name to the big money bill despite the fact it is traditional for the House finance chairman to sponsor it.

So the un-introduced bill lies there—and could possibly die there—for want of a "father."

Some decision on what to do with DiSalle's bill—he says it meets the needs of state government for the coming biennium—will come after a joint session of the Senate and House finance committees next Wednesday night.

It is possible—although not likely—that GOP lawmakers might take the drastic step of juking the governor's bill and substituting their own—one that would be balanced, at least on paper.

Some Republican leaders were complaining that the DiSalle appropriation bill fails to follow the letter of the law—that he governor must offer the legislative a complete financial plan for the legislature, including revenues to cover his spending proposals. They say his financial plan is somewhat less than complete because he failed to suggest new taxes to cover increased appropriations.

DiSalle told the legislature in his budget message Monday night: "I will make no tax recommendations to you."

With the appropriations bill hanging unresolved and the inauguration of John F. Kennedy as president coming up Friday in Washington, the Ohio legislative machinery ground slowly to a halt yesterday.

Absenteeism because of the inaugural threatened to riddle Senate attendance today almost to the point of no quorum, so the upper chamber called it quits for the week after Wednesday's session. The House was to go through the motions of calling the session to order, at least.

Another batch of bills poured in Wednesday including measures to:

Give most state employees an 8 per cent pay increase by giving them 26 paydays a year instead of 24—once every two weeks instead of twice a month—at the same rate of pay biweekly that they now receive twice a month.

Permit cities to combine the offices of auditor and treasurer.

Prohibit job discrimination for workers over 40.

Increase the maximum fine for racial discrimination in public places from $50 to $1,000 and the minimum from $50 to $300.

Increase the maximum fine for throwing trash on highways from $50 to $100 in addition to a 30-day jail term.

Permit compacts with neighboring states for construction of toll-free bridges over the Ohio River. Present law limits such compacts to repair and maintenance.

Give commissioned and warrant officers of the Ohio National Guard a $100 annual allowance for uniforms.

Ban all other hunting during the deer-hunting season.

Prohibit the use of photographs of state officials in official reports.

Require motor vehicle operators to dim lights when approaching another vehicle from the rear.

Provide that operation of a motor vehicle shall be deemed legal consent for intoxication and drug-influence tests. Drivers now may refuse to submit to such tests.

The House received a resolution from Rep. John J. Connors Jr., R-Lucas, proposing a constitutional amendment to authorize creation of metropolitan federations in one or more neighboring counties. A similar proposal was scheduled for the 1959 statewide ballot, but it was ruled off by the Ohio Supreme Court on a technicality.

Lutheran Chief Raps Catholic Cardinal in School Aid Fuss

NEW YORK (AP)—A Protestant spokesman has taken issue with Francis Cardinal Spellman's attack on proposals by President-elect John F. Kennedy's task force on education for federal aid to public schools.

The Rev. Dr. Oswald C. J. Hoffmann, public relations director of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, which operates the largest system of Protestant elementary schools in the country, said:

"Let Cardinal Spellman speak for himself. He does not speak for us Lutherans."

Cardinal Spellman, Roman Catholic archbishop of New York, charged Tuesday that limiting the proposed $5.8-billion aid to public schools would be unfair to parochial and private school pupils.

"I cannot believe," he said, "that Congress would discriminate against Lutheran, Baptist, Catholic or Jewish parents—Americans all—in the allocation of federal funds."

Dr. Hoffman replied:

"As Americans who accept the traditional American policy of church-state separation, we Lutherans would not feel discriminated against if federal funds were appropriated for public schools only."

"In fact, we think that federal assistance, if there has to be such assistance, should be restricted to public school."

Kennedy, who arrived here Tuesday night for a short stay said he had no comment on the cardinal's remarks.

Cardinal Spellman, at a meeting of the Cardinal's Educational Campaign, said that denying equal aid to church-related schools pupils would deprive them "of freedom of mind and freedom of religion guaranteed by our country's constitution."

Enrollment in Protestant-run elementary schools in this country totals about 300,000. About half of this number—149,201 pupils—are enrolled in the 1,292 full time elementary schools operated by the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod.

Roman Catholics operate 9,897 elementary schools, with 4,195,781 pupils.

Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, has repeatedly put himself on record against federal aid to either parochial or private schools.

Total accumulations of 1 to 3 inches are expected in a narrow band along the 40th parallel.

Cloudy and cold weather with occasional snow flurries will be general over most of the state tonight, but clearing will take place in the western counties on Friday.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

A low pressure area moving eastward from Tennessee and Kentucky brought more snow to Ohio during the night. By this morning, accumulations ranged upward to two inches, in central counties.

Dr. Tom Dooley Killed at 34 By Cancer

For his work with the refugees, Dooley won the Legion of Merit, and was the youngest officer in the history of the Medical Corps to receive it. He also was awarded the National Order of Viet Nam, that nation's highest decoration.

Dooley turned over his first small hospital in 1957 to the Laotian government. Then it was back to this country to raise more funds. He lectured and appeared on TV.

In 1958, with Dr. Peter Comanduras, a Washington, D.C., physician, he founded MEDICO (Medical International Cooperation Organization), a nonprofit agency.

Dooley had raised more money with another best-seller, "The Edge of Tomorrow," and returned to Laos to establish a hospital in the village of Moung Sing near the Chinese border.

At first there were only mats for beds, but Dooley considered this his own hospital. It soon was handling 100 patients a day.

It was back again to the United States for more lectures and fund-raising.

In 1959 a $10,000 annual award Dooley received from an insurance firm went to another MEDICO hospital in Kenya. But that same year he learned that a tumor on his chest was malignant. A New York operation was deemed successful and he went back overseas.

Even though told by some doctors his cancer was arrested, he remarked to newsmen that his type of cancer was the fast-growing kind, but added:

"I figure that what I have crammed into my life makes me really 65."

He managed to get his own plane and flew back and forth directing the hospitals. An admittedly avid fund-raiser, he once wryly described himself as "begging, bumming, borrowing and, from time to time, just stealing a bit" for his and other MEDICO hospitals.

Last November Dooley, in Hong Kong to discuss a new hospital program collapsed from sheer exhaustion. Came the brace and a diagnosis of "bony destruction to the vertebrae."

After a funeral mass at St. Louis Cathedral, Dooley will be buried in Calvary Cemetery beside his father, Thomas A. Dooley Sr., and brother, Earle, killed in Germany during World War II.

Among survivors are his mother, Agnes, and two brothers, Malcolm, of Huntington, N.Y., and Edward, of Cleveland, Ohio.

Assembly Eyes Creation of New District

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 1960 census gave Ohio one additional congressman up from 23 to 24. Two bills were introduced in the legislature Wednesday to redistrict the state to create a 24th District.

Both measures came from a pair of Butler County Republicans — Reps. Charles H. Jones and Walter E. Powell. The Republican legislative leadership, apparently, was not aware of the content of either bill.

House Speaker Roger Cloud, Logan County Republican often mentioned as a congressional possibility, registered a complete blank when a newsmen started to kid him about the "Cloud 24" bill.

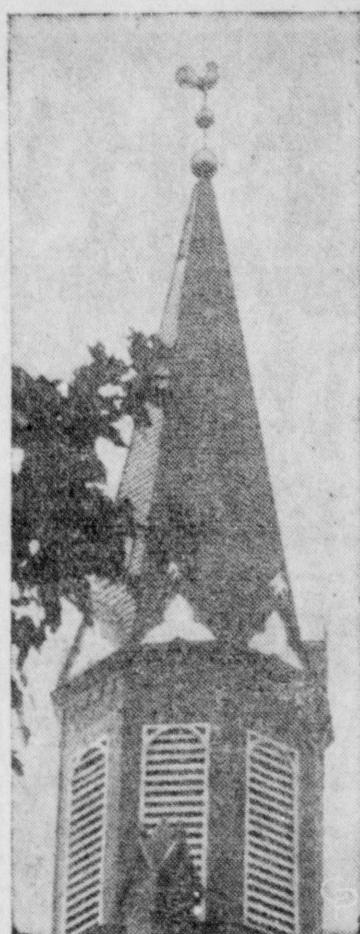

That was one of the Jones-Powell bills which would split Warren and Clinton counties from the present 7th District—represented by veteran congressman Clarence J. Brown, a Republican—and combine them with Butler County to form a new 7th District. Butler now is in the 3rd District along with Montgomery County.

The new 24th District, the bill provides, would be made up of Logan, Union, Champaign, Clark, Madison and Greene counties. As a Logan County resident, Cloud would be eligible to run for Congress in what, normally, would be a Republican district.

"My gosh," Cloud explained. "They'll accuse me of trying to set up a congressional district for myself."

The other Jones-Powell bill would set up Butler County, alone, as the new 24th District, leaving Montgomery County standing by itself as the 3rd District.

Steeple Rooster Custom Prevails

and Reformed church here. Several miles south, at the crossroads community of Burksville, is a similar church — Zion Evangelical and Reformed. Of course there is a reason why the two roosters are atop the spires.

It seems that roosters were first used on Protestant church steeples to designate them from Catholic churches, back in the early days of the Reformation. Purpose of the emblem was to remind everyone who saw it that it was Peter who denied Christ on the eve of His crucifixion, when these denials were marked by the crowing of the barnyard cock.

BACK IN pagan times, the rooster was also associated with various prophecies. Roosters on church spires are relatively common in some parts of Protestant Europe, but the idea was not generally carried over to America by the early immigrants.

Waterloo residents say the four-foot-high rooster atop their church was the work of a local copper-smith, Louis Wall, who is also credited with making many of the large copper apple butter kettles that are still used by housewives here in making apple butter in late Autumn.

The rooster was put atop the steeple in 1874, and has been "pointing to the wind" ever since. Only time the rooster's privacy was invaded was a summer day when a swarm of bees tried to use it as a hive.

The rooster here, like those in Europe, is mounted above a sphere, said to symbolize the world. The one at Waterloo, strangely, is mounted above two carefully spaced spheres.

Its neighboring church, Zion, has a similar rooster, but only one sphere. This church, though, has a weathervane as well.

These old churches were founded by the German-speaking immigrants who came to settle this region shortly after 1830. Many of the buildings, even today, are built flush with the sidewalk, modeled after old-world architecture.

These church organizations were first called the German Lutheran church, and until about World War I days, all services were in German. Now German services are held one Sunday monthly, or every fourth week.

Crippled Girl Found Dead in Home Bathtub

CINCINNATI (AP)—A 12-year-old girl, crippled by arthritis, was found dead in the bathtub at her home here Wednesday night, apparently a drowning victim.

Carol Jane McAllister, who weighed less than 50 pounds, was found in four inches of water a half hour after her mother, Mrs. Kathlene McAllister, had placed her in the tub. Police said Mrs. McAllister told them the child liked to roll around in a tub or on the bed.

The report noted that 26 of the vehicle crashes came during snow and icy conditions which prevailed here during December. Most of the mishaps were minor fender benders.

THURSDAY seemed to be the worst day for accidents, with 12 recorded. Seven came on the snowy day of December 22 when many people were in the downtown area for Christmas shopping.

According to local officers, 67 drivers were involved in the accidents. Male operators numbered 50 and females only 15. Seventeen of the drivers were in the 35-44 age bracket.

Ohio Highway Revenue Expected To Climb

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Handsome Herman, a roughneck tabby cat owned by Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bowler of Alameda, Calif., has arrived in Columbus to begin enjoying his fame as catdom's Cat-sanova.

Herman will be honored guest this weekend at the 40th annual cat show of the Ohio State Persian Club in Columbus.

Herman whipped into national notoriety last November when he became a victim of a lawsuit resulting from his unwanted attentions toward a neighbor's Siamese cats.

The Bowlers quickly retaliated with a countersuit stating that Herman is just a "red-blooded American tomcat with the manly attributes and instincts of a tomcat of any nationality."

A few days after the countersuit, Herman was cat-napped. Several hours after he was reported missing a bruised and battered Herman appeared. The beating is still unsolved, and the lawsuits still are pending.

Herman is going to donate his $25 fee for appearing at the cat show to the Crippled Children's Fund along with the rest of the show's proceeds.

Cincinnati Electrical Workers OK New Pact

CINCINNATI (AP)—Fifty electrical workers agreed Wednesday night to accept a new two-year contract with ten Cincinnati sign companies and end a 10-day strike. The pact calls for raises of 10 cents an hour.

The experiment station's report was part of a study ordered two years ago by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and sponsored by the Ohio Department of Highways and the U.S. Bureau of Roads.

Ancient Romans had corporations, mortgages, checking accounts, and interest-bearing savings accounts. Roman businessmen formed companies to handle government contracts for war materials during the Punic wars.

What last year was the Western Cloverleaf Riding Club will be divided into two clubs this year. One is the pony club mentioned above, the other a horse club to be organized in the near future. Check the 4-H column on the Saturday Farm Page for the organization date of the horse club.

Ex-Convict Is Held For Threatening Banker

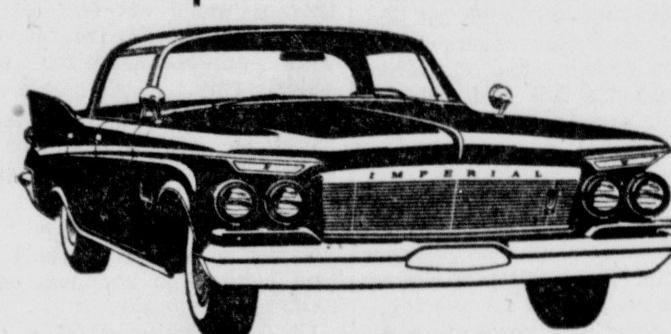

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police were holding Charles A. Wilson, 47, an ex-convict, who Wednesday allegedly threatened a vice president of a downtown branch of the Cleveland Trust Co. with a paring knife and demanded funds. The bank official, Ralph H. Canton Seeks To Establish Pro Football Hall of Fame

CLEVELAND (AP)—Among the projects, problems and proposals that will occupy the National Football League at its meeting in New York next week will be Canton's presentation of its plan to establish a National Professional Football Hall of Fame in the Stark County metropolis.

No city can advance a stronger claim. As the birthplace of organized professional football, the game that now holds the devoted attention of uncounted millions of Americans, Canton is the logical site for a shrine dedicated to the memorialization of the stars of past and present.

The first professional football league was organized in Canton on Sept. 17, 1920, when 11 men representing as many cities met in a garage building located where the post office now stands.

Among them were the immortal Jim Thorpe, Cleveland's Stan Conwell, and George Halas, coach of the Decatur (Ill.) Staleys, who were to become, with Halas still as coach and owner, the famed Chicago Bears. Thorpe, then starring as fullback of the Canton Bulldogs, was elected president of the league, which adopted the name of the American Professional Football League.

Other cities included in the group were Rock Island, Ill.; Akron, Rochester, N.Y.; Chicago (Cardinals), Dayton, Hammond, Ind.; Memphis, Ind., and Massillon.

But long before that historic organization meeting professional football had been a reality in Canton and Massillon, where the

Tiger Grapplers Still On Undefeated List

Circleville's power-packed wrestling team resumes action Saturday at Grandview.

The Tig'rs, owning a perfect 5-0 record, will be out to make the Bobcats their sixth victim. The battle is scheduled to start at 3 p.m.

Circleville may be forced to go into the test under strength. Heavy-weight Rupert Rudd is scheduled for a weekend visit to the University of West Virginia to check on a possible scholarship. John Williams may be forced to the sidelines again this week with an ankle injury and Ray Wimmer may be out with a case of skin rash.

However, Coach John Current has some able replacements if the regulars are out. Vern Reichmanis, a 265-pounder, will fill in for Rudd.

RAY TAYLOR probably will get the nod for the injured Williams in the 167-pound class. Taylor made his first start last week against Upper Arlington, and came through with a good showing.

Dever Jolly may be called on to replace Wimmer in the 135 division. Jolly gained a decision in his first start against Columbus West.

To date the Tigers have three matmen in the undefeated ranks. They are Rudd and Williams and Bobby Owens in the 120 class. So far the locals have suffered only two pins in 55 individual matches.

Other than the absence of Rudd, Williams and Wimmer, the other CHS matmen appear to be shaping up to peak form for the Grandview struggle.

Gaining pins for Circleville Friday against Upper Arlington were Owens, Wimmer, Phil Wing and Rudd. Decisions were turned in by Tim Mogan and Dave Troutman.

NCAA Blackball Fails To Slow Tar Heel Crew

Carolina '5' Chalks 10th Straight with Win over Arch-Rival

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

North Carolina's Tar Heels, once a good basketball team going somewhere, suddenly have become a great one going nowhere since the NCAA lowered its pro-scholarship boom nine days ago.

In four games since the penalty for recruiting violations was imposed in Pittsburgh, Jan. 10, the Tar Heels have whipped four straight Atlantic Coast Conference foes, boosted their winning streak to ten, their national ranking to sixth, and their season record to a tidy 12-2.

Wednesday night's game was the most impressive of all—a 97-66 rout of arch-rival N.C. State at Raleigh.

With All-America candidates York LaRosa and Doug Moe each scoring 27 points, the Tar Heels hit 66.7 per cent from the field in the second half, 53.5 for the game, and rolled to a 36 point lead at one stage.

Fans Toss Eggs During Pro Game

BOSTON (AP) — While the coaches wrestled over a microphone, brash rookie Len Wilkens helped the feared St. Louis forecourt stun Boston's champions for the third straight time.

Egg throwing preceded a plea by Celtics Coach Red Auerbach over the public address microphone just before the half Wednesday night. Rival pilot Paul Seymour literally pulled the plug on Red.

Afterward both were sorry a few fans had spoiled the game with an occasional egg.

The brilliant Boilermaker may have some difficulty. Dischinger had five stiches taken on the middle finger of his right hand after a chemistry lab mishap Tuesday and may not be in top form Saturday.

Official conference statistics today disclosed a hot two-man scoring race between Dischinger and Ohio State's superb Jerry Lucas, who has a two-game average of 32.5. Saturday night, Lucas leads Ohio State (2-0) against Minnesota.

Third in the league scoring battle is Indiana's Walt Bellamy with a two-game average of 23.5. Other leaders include John Tidwell, Michigan 21-6; Don Nelson, Iowa 18-0; Jerry Colangelo, Illinois 17-3; Dick Hall, Michigan State 17-2; Frank Allen, Iowa 16-5; and Tom Bolyard, Indiana, and Larry Siegfried, Ohio State, each 16-0.

Bellamy is the conference's best rebounder with 17 recoveries per game for two contests.

In team statistics, Ohio State has developed a fine balance between scoring and defense. The Buckeyes have averaged 88 points per game, based on a 50 per cent field goal accuracy, and have yielded only 55 points per game

The tempestuous 31-year-old outfielder made the comment after signing his 1961 contract with the Cleveland Indians Wednesday. The Indians said Piersall got a slight raise, and reports are that it will give him $35,000 this year.

Trainer Ernie Biggs also said the sprain was minor. He added that Lucas ought to be able to resume practice about Friday.

The top-ranked Buckeyes meet Minnesota Saturday in St. John Arena.

The San Francisco 49ers yielded the fewest number of points in National Football League games last season. They permitted only 205 tallies.

Lucas Still Nurses An Ouchy Ankle

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State basketball fans hope to see the Bucks' All-American Jerry Lucas up and running again Friday.

Big Luke, who still is nursing a sore knee which he sprained Jan. 7, has been sitting out practices since he sprained his right ankle in a workout Tuesday.

During a fast break, Lucas stepped on the foot of a freshman defender and crashed to the floor. The junior from Middletown said shortly after the incident: "I don't think it's serious. It felt like it at first, but it's no so bad now."

Monday Nite Late league bowling at Circle D had some changes in standings this week.

The Top Hat team defeated Coca-Cola 7-2 and Syracuse 9-5, its eighth straight defeat, 97-77, and Colgate broke a 7-game losing streak, 67-57 over Columbia.

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Nobody seems to ever write stories like "The Prisoner of Zenda" any more, full of dashing, nerveless heroes, beautiful princesses and lovely uniforms. But Sumner Locke Elliott's TV adaptation of the popular old mythical kingdom romance was a thoroughly delightful and entertaining 90 minutes on CBS Wednesday night.

The adaptor and the performers invested the Anthony Hope tale of shoddiness in Rutania with just the proper atmosphere—high adventure and romance played with just a suggestion of satire, all of which made the sword play, the poison wine and the sinister plotting great fun.

Christopher Plummer was properly noble and brave as Rudolf Rassendyll, the king's English double and adequately weak and irresponsible as his majesty. Farley Granger and Philip Bosco were a pair of lovely villains, while Inger Stevens was all that someone named Princess Flavia should be. I guess we all had a furtive tear in our eyes when the English Rudolf turned back the country and his royal beloved to his royal double and sadly went home, with only a rose and his memories.

The soap operas, the game shows and the reruns of old situation comedies will be brushed ruthlessly aside Friday as the presidential inauguration literally takes over the TV tube during the daylight hours.

The three major networks will start reporting the big event at 11 a.m. Eastern Standard Time and continue on through the swearing-in ceremony and parade. That means it will be around 4 p.m. before things get back to the usual goings-on. Then, at 11:15 p.m., all three will swing into their inaugural ball reports.

CBS announced plans to convert its popular half-hour Western, "Gunsmoke," for years at the top of the popularity ratings, into an hour-long show next season. The idea, according to the network, is to give the program "greater scope."
